

AXIS OPENS 4TH FACILITY IN NEW YORK REGION —WILL SERVE DYNAMIC RETAIL MARKET

Tri-State Regional Facilities Now Offer More Than 400,000 Square Feet of Warehousing Space

Maspeth, N.Y., April 16, 2014—Axis Global Logistics—a leading provider of retail supply chain solutions—announced that it has opened a fourth facility in the New York region as part of its ongoing effort to better serve retailers.

The continued evolution of the retail experience requires seamless execution and this new Axis location will support the need of retailers to be nimble and reactive in today's market by helping them increase speed and flexibility in such areas as store development, events, and visual refreshes.

Axis' tri-state regional facilities now offer customers in excess of 400,000 square feet of warehousing space. The new facility joins a network of state-of-the-art Axis facilities strategically located throughout the United States, Canada, Europe and Asia.

This new Axis facility, which features rail side service and is located just minutes from Manhattan in Saddle Brook, N.J., provides warehousing, perpetual inventory management, receipt verification, quality control and additional value added services such as repacking and assembly services and product staging areas for electrical, store furnishings, lighting, flooring and visual displays.

"Our warehousing service combined with our global transportation infrastructure provides a OneTouch supply chain solution to the retail industry," explained Brian Harvey, vice president of sales and marketing at Axis. "This OneTouch solution can prove to be a key element of any successful store opening. That's because timing and collaboration is critical when one takes into account the various priority settings and approaches retail clients, suppliers, architects, general contractors and shop installers bring to the process. A flawed implementation can delay your door opening which means lost profits."

"Axis' Retail Services focuses on maintaining the integrity of our client's brand," Harvey added. "Our integrated supply chain solution provides a seamless, single point-of-contact approach, which, coupled with the company's global logistics capabilities, industry-leading technology and unmatched personal service, truly sets an Axis solution apart."
