

AXIS SPONSORS 2012 LUMINAIRE AWARDS

Maspeth, N.Y., April 20, 2012—Axis Global Logistics, a leading transportation and logistics company, announced that it was a commitment sponsor of the 25th annual Luminaire Awards, which was held on April 18, 2012 at the Pierre Hotel in New York City.

The Luminaire Awards are presented each year by the media production community to individuals who are innovators in their field, who are committed to the ongoing education of themselves and their peers and who contribute to the general advancement of the industry.

Recipients of the 2012 Luminaire Award are: George Ashbrook , Managing Director of E-Graphics New York; Meta Brophy, Director of Publishing Operations at Consumer Reports; Steve Lubomski, General Manager/US, H&M; Peter Meirs, Vice President of Production Technologies for Time Inc.; and Brenda White, Senior Vice President/Publishing Activation Director, Starcom USA.

Funds raised at the awards ceremony are used to help support the DEER (or Digital Enterprise Education & Research) Foundation. The foundation provides scholarships and financial aid to high school and college students who demonstrate a serious interest in pursuing a career in advertising, media, publishing and printing.

“Axis salutes this year’s winners for their creativity and dedication to the industry,” said Brian Harvey, Axis’ Vice President of National Sales and Marketing. “This ceremony honors a group of people who richly deserve the recognition and raises money that helps develop the next generation of industry leaders. That’s why we’re proud to have been a commitment sponsor of this event.”

For more information about the DEER Foundation or to make a contribution, please visit:
<http://www.idealliance.org/groups/deer-foundation>