Axis Global Logistics Joins MedTech For Solutions Group Purchasing Organization as a New Vendor

Maspeth, NY - Axis Global Logistics (Axis) is pleased to announce that they have joined MedTech For Solutions Group Purchasing Organization (GPO) ("MedTech") as a new vendor. This partnership will enable Axis to engage with and meet the needs of specialized medical practices, by providing on-demand transportation of critical shipments by air or truck, delivered on time to any destination.

Axis specializes in moving sensitive, same day delivery, time-critical small package and freight. The company partners with deadline-driven industries that require 24-hour service and a high level of personal attention. Axis serves companies with a regular flow of urgent shipments and logistics requirements such as, but not limited to, the assisted reproduction technology laboratory market, marketing and advertising services, broadcast production, financial services, legal services and aeronautical.

Within the health care industry, Axis not only provides on time delivery of Preimplantation Genetic Diagnosis (PGD) and in vitro fertilization (IVF) samples to their centers with same day time critical services, but with technology leading software that can track a shipment throughout its entire shipping process. Knowing that the lifespan of tissue and specimen samples can only be that of 24-48 hours, Axis's tracking system allows the client to be in control and aware of their products movement by sending out direct emails to their customers and keeping them up to date on the shipment. This software also has its footprint in the movement of diagnostic equipment that needs to be tracked from point of pickup to point of delivery, with confirmation of delivery by signature, titled a Proof of Delivery (POD).

Headquartered in New York City, with additional offices located across the country and more than 500 worldwide Axis agents, Axis is able to manage shipments from anywhere in the world. Axis operates around-the-clock, 365 days a year and is dedicated to providing the highest level of support for their customers.

As a new vendor for MedTech's GPO, Axis will provide time-sensitive transportation of critical shipments to specialized medical practices that are members of the GPO.

"By joining MedTech's GPO, we are able to reach out and assist the unique needs of the healthcare industry by providing transportation and logistics services for their highly sensitive shipments," said Tom LoPresti, Axis Global Managing Partner. "We are pleased with our decision to join the GPO and we look forward to the new business partnerships that will grow as a result."
